

Washington County Telecommunications Infrastructure Assessment and Plan

May, 2005

Can you hear me yet?

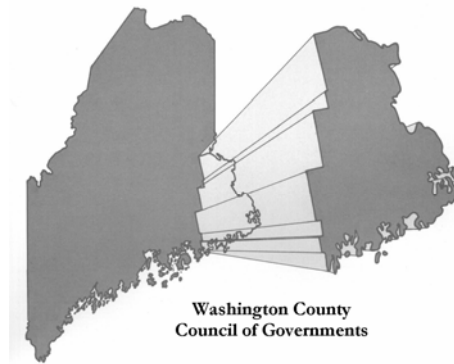

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration survey marker No.1 in Calais, Maine - location of Calais Observatory where telegraphic longitudinal difference across the Atlantic was first completed on December 16, 1866.

Washington County Telecommunications Infrastructure Assessment and Plan

May, 2005

A publication of the Washington County Council of Governments

Prepared by:

Judith C. East, Planning Director
Washington County Council of Governments

Christopher Spruce, Community Development Coordinator
Sunrise County Economic Council

John Holden, Senior Development Specialist
Eastern Maine Development Corporation

Cindy Pellett, GIS Technician
Eastern Maine Development Corporation

With financial support from a Community Development Block Grant Planning Grant from the Maine Department of Community and Economic Development and a Rural Community Development Initiative Grant from the United States Department of Agriculture.